

1) Write out Galatians 2:20 _____

2) Write out Romans 13:1 _____

3) To fear God means that you're embracing the "fence" that defines the distinction between behavior that is _____, _____ and productive as opposed to that which is immoral, lethal and _____.

4) I respect a person's position regardless if I respect them. True or false?

5) Where in Romans do I go if I'm looking for a verse that says a person's authority has been given to them by God? _____

6) If I choose to rebel against a person's whose authority has come from God, than I am not just dishonoring that person, I'm also rebelling against _____.

7) One of the benefits I receive by revering God and respecting people in positions of authority is a good sense of self. Reason being is that if I'm revering God, than I am simultaneously ascribing value to myself because God lives in me (see Galatians 2:20). Now peer pressure doesn't affect me as much because if I know who I am, than I don't need anyone to tell me who I should _____.
